

Please join Community Action Organization for our 3rd Annual “Celebration of Community Spirit Dinner”

featuring guest speaker

Juan Williams

—civil rights author, journalist, political analyst and national spokesperson for Community Action agencies.

Honoring

Legacy Healthcare, Outstanding business
Shirley Huffman, Outstanding business leader

Thursday, April 13, 2000

Greenwood Inn

10700 SW Allen Boulevard, Beaverton, Oregon

Private Reception 5:00-6:00 pm

Dinner 5:30-8:30 pm

Corporate sponsorships available

Individual tickets available for $50 per person

RSVP by April 1, 2000. For questions call (503) 693-3230

A benefit for Community Action Organization

Community Action Organization “Celebration of Community Spirit” Dinner

Biographical Information for Juan Williams

Nationality: Panamanian

Personal:

Born April 10, 1954, in Colon, Panama; son of Rogelio L. (an accountant) and Alma Geraldine (a secretary; maiden name, Elias) Williams; married Susan Delise (a social worker), July 1, 1978; children: Antonio Mason and Regan Almina.

Education:

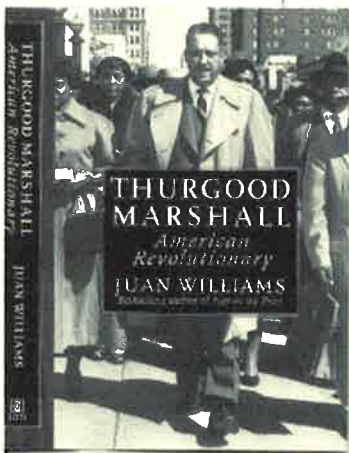

Haveford College, B.A., 1976

Career:

- Washington Post, Washington, D.C., columnist and reporter, 1976—
- Author of the non-fiction best seller Eyes on the Prize: America's Civil Rights Years, 1954-1965, and Thurgood Marshall: American Revolutionary.
- He is host of America's Black Forum, the nationally syndicated TV show and a political analyst for Fox News Channel.
- He is a regular panelist on Fox News Sunday.

Sidelights:

Mr. Williams began his journalistic career more than 20 years ago at The Washington Post. He has served the paper as a police reporter, editorial writer, columnist, and White House correspondent. Articles by Williams have appeared in magazines ranging from Fortune and The Atlantic Monthly to Ebony, Gentlemen's Quarterly, and The New Republic.

The winner of several journalistic awards for reporting and commentary, Mr. Williams has also won an Emmy Award for TV documentary writing. He has written a series of critically acclaimed documentaries including “Politics - The New Black Power”, “Marian Anderson”; and “A. Philip Randolph - For Jobs and Freedom.” He has appeared on numerous television shows including Nightline, Washington Week in Review, Arsenio, Oprah, CNN's Crossfire {where he served as co-host for several years} and Inside Washington.

His inspirational and informative speaking style has earned him praise from corporations, trade associations, colleges, civil rights groups and citizen associations.