

October 21st 1848.

Mr J. S. Gifford

I have written you an article for your paper. I have had conversation with some leading men in our Church in this vicinity the objects is generally liked, I have preferred the general feeling with regard to yourself as its Editor, you have doubtless seen Curry's remarks in the Free press - my advice would be to take a hint from him but not reply to him in any way correct all your mistakes and errors as soon as possible and straighten yourself in your Editorial Chair, all allow others to handle Mr Curry in proper time, you gain nothing by haste.

send me as many numbers as you think best of your paper I will act as your agent if you wish in receiving your subscriptions to do for myself I will subscribe for two numbers - or copies - our little family are in usual health - all yours in love and attachments to yourself and family - you are W. H. Gray

The Spring Spring arrived off the Boat yesterday afternoon ^{25th inst.} and came in all safe =
