Dear Sir -

Your favor is rec^d & noted.

Your land including the land sold Anderson was all sold for the delinquent Hs judgment taxes of ~~1869 & 1870~~ and Co judgment taxes of 1870. There was no injunction except what the Rail Road Co got out on their lands, and of course that would not affect any other land except their own. their suit is still in status quo and cant tell how same will terminate. Most of those who did not pay these judgment taxes have let them go to sale, and then got an assignment of the certificates of purchase so that if the said tax was illegal they would be in a shape to have same refunded. This we think would be the best way for you to do. We can get an assignment of all the certificates to you for cost of redemption, and then you could hold them until the matter was settled. We have written your son but he has given us no instructions thus far. Please let us know soon as the party who purchased the land (Mr Tuttle) may dispose of them to other parties + will be harder for you to get an assignment of same.

Very Truly
