

Beaver Acres preschoolers thank Columbia Community Bank

Last Thursday 16 preschoolers, all 4 years old, paid a visit to Columbia Community Bank to say thanks for gifts donated by bank employees to their Head Start afternoon class at Beaver Acres.

Led by their teacher, Mary Hindal, the kids said thank you by presenting colorful artwork of thanks. The artwork will be on display at the bank for the remainder of the month. The bank had also hosted Community Action Giving Tree to benefit this classroom and another at Head Start over the past holiday season.

The preschoolers were treated to a tour of the bank, including operating the coin machine and examining paper money from different countries. Each of them was presented with a Sacajawea dollar coin by Rick Roby, bank president.

I'm getting Pictures!