Senator Victor Atiyeh

Dear Vic:

It would appear that the organization of the Senate has reached a real stalemate. Bud claims he has 15 votes which are extremely solid, and I am presuming that someday we will be able to hold our position.

I am particularly anxious to try to organize some way or another in view of the fact that Don Willner apparently will emerge as majority leader. It seems to me we have to play our cards very carefully if we are to be successful in gaining control.

In so far as committee appointments are concerned, Vic, my interests have revolved around the Ways and Means Committee, and naturally, I would be most interested in continuing in that activity. In addition to that, I would be willing to work in any area that would be most helpful to the leadership in the Senate.

I would hope that you are planning to hold a caucus early on Sunday so that we would know the strategy and direction that you intend to take in your organizational plans.

Very truly yours,

L. W. Newbry

Dear Vic:

In accordance with your request, I enclose herewith the list of senate standing committees, marked to indicate my preference for committee assignments.

Some time, before too long, I would like to visit with you about some suggestions that I have for "improvement" of the Senate.

Gloria joins me in sending our best wishes to you and Dolores for a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Yours sincerely,

I would like very much to be a sub-committee chairman on Ways and Means. If such an appointment were possible I would prefer to have a more limited number of committee assignments than is customary.
